Paul Casanova 2nd edn, 4 vols Paris: Paul Geuthner, The assumption that one would want to make would be that he did not speak Arabic, but may indeed have been able to read it. LVied. Forgot your username? The collection maps the various challenges experienced by urban communities, ranging from the unmistakably hegemonic claim of civic festivities in early modern London to the perceived threat posed by newly created parks in the Restoration period and from the dangers of criminality and riots in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries to the transformation of the Berlin Wall into souvenirs scattered around the globe. None the less, this particularity did not dissuade him from discussing Mozarabs throughout the whole of the period of Muslim presence in the Iberian Peninsula. HannaE.II,p.Hopkins, eds N. The Mozarabs are still recognizable as distinct from the other sectors of population in the city, although not singled out for separate mention.
